LCBT is the largest specialist FE funded college in the UK for Beauty, also specialising in Hair Styling and Media Makeup. LCBT also provides Fitness training which has grown exponentially. This year we introduced Fast Track courses allowing learners to get into careers faster and with over 500 employers on our in-house Job Shop books, progression into FE/Employment is consistently 90%.

New for 2016 LCBT are introducing our Level 2 Women's and Men's Hairdressing course this January.

Wac Arts College offers vocational training to young people aged 14-19. Our specialism is in the Performing Arts and Media. Students that come onto our Post 16 programme will have the opportunity to take a Performing Arts BTEC, Music NVQ and their Math/English if required.

We compliment our curriculum with trips, master classes and other enrichment activities.

Spear run a 6 week pre-employment program to equip young people with the hard skills they need to find a job, including CV writing and interview training

Let Me Play runs a range of programmes for young people; all of them aimed at providing opportunities and empowering young people. Our mission is to help to improve lives of the young people we work with and help them to be the best versions of themselves as possible and to aim high in life.

The London Hairdressing Apprenticeship Academy (LHAA) is a dynamic and innovative vocational training organisation that specialises in high quality hairdressing training. The LHAA offers NVQs and Apprenticeships at our state of the art hairdressing academies in Borehamwood (Hertfordshire), Camden (London) and Loughton (Essex).

We support unemployed 16-24 year olds to move into sustained employment using the power of sport.

Our award-winning programmes operate in 14 cities and 36 local communities in England and Scotland.

An apprenticeship can be the start of a career in a huge range of fields including IT, business, construction or the media. It can lead to a degree or a professional qualification, sometimes both. It might be the first step towards ultimately running your own business.

King's Cross Construction (KXCSC) is Camden's flagship Skills Centre, and has been operational since June 2004. We offer training, apprenticeships and employment advice and opportunities to people looking to start a career within construction or those who are interested in furthering their career within the industry

Harrington Choices/Employability programmes are designed to cater for young people with a wide variety of interests, goals and support needs. The programmes are tailored to the needs and interests of each learner with a focus on gaining employment and independent living skills.

The Princes Trust offer a variety of course to support young people to achieve their education and career goals.

Discuss your options with your Camden

Connexions adviser Marlene Holder.
